The Super-Six principle, exclusive to Hudson and Essex, is responsible for the largest selling 6-cylinder car in the world, because it gives results in smooth, brilliant action, reliability and economy never attained by any other type. This ESSEX, in all ways, is the finest ever built. Easier riding and driving; more flexible in performance, hand-somer in line and finish, it is also lower in price than ever before. Its success is simply the belief of buyers that it represents the utmost automobile value and satisfaction within hundreds of dollars of the price, and it proceeds entirely from what owners themselves say of ESSEX.

AVIATORS FOR NORTH.	VARIOUS ARTICLES STOLEN.	NO USE OF FORCE.	TO-MORROW'S BIG DEBATE.	ZAMBOANGA INCIDENT.	MOTOR BOAT SEIZED.	FINANCIAL HELP WANTED.
Conflicting reports are to hand from Canton with regard to the situation at Wuchang. On Saturday, there were celebrations in Canton over the reported fall of the city, but "anti-Red" information from Hankow is to the effect that up to yesterday afternoon there did not appear to be any danger of the place falling into the hands of the Southern expeditionary army.	Through the occurrence of a burglary yesterday morning, at his residence, No. 1, Tantallon Terrace, Mr. A. W. Bliss, of the Kowloon Docks, has suffered a loss of $360, represented in articles stolen from the dining room and sitting room.	As was briefly reported by Reuter at the time, there was on July 27th an important debate in the House of Lords on British policy in China. Papers to hand give a fuller account of the discussion.	Rugby, Aug. 29.—A Manifesto has been issued by the Miners' Federation, which, after reviewing the position of the coal dispute during which, despite its long duration, the spirit of the miners is resolute and unshaken, states that they are prepared to enter into negotiations on the question of wages.	According to a message from Zamboanga, dated Thursday last, Governor General Wood declared that the entire responsibility for the disorders incident to Colonel Thompson's arrival there, rested on the Christian Filipinos who had broken their agreement to remain on one side of Pershing Plaza until the Thompson party had landed.	Reports from Canton indicate that the boycott pickets are getting extremely active, and are freely using arms against foreign launches and motor boats. A few days ago, an affair developed, resulting in an American citizen being taken into custody and beaten by the pickets; being eventually released as the result of action taken by the United States Consul.	According to Kuomintang reports, there was an attendance of 150,000 at the demonstration held in Canton last Wednesday for the purpose of supporting the boycott and strike movement against Canton. Various speeches were delivered and resolutions passed, these latter including a request to the Government to supply the pickets with arms and to continue financial assistance to the strikers.
It is reported that Marshal Wu Pei-fu, who has returned to Hankow from Peking for the purpose of directing the Allied operations, is now reorganising his forces, but it is felt in some quarters that unless he can secure from General Sun Chuan-fang reinforcements from the provinces of Chekiang, Anhui, Kiangsu, Kiangsi and Fukien, he will be unable to fulfil his promise of recapturing Yochow within a week.	Included in the "bag" was an Underwood typewriter valued at $175, which was missed from his accustomed place by Mr. Bliss's son when he had occasion to look for it yesterday morning. A fuller investigation was then carried out, and it became apparent, as one article after the other was found to be missing, that an extensive burglary had been committed during the night.	Lord Farnham asked his Majesty's Government—whether they would make a statement on matters of foreign policy and any matters affecting the Empire, and moved for papers. In regard to China, he said the information which had come to him from the missionaries was that there was a national consciousness arising which must be taken into account in the political relations of that country and Great Britain. His question to the Government was whether, in their view, there was a difference in the conditions of the problems which had arisen between this country and Peking and between us and Canton.	Although indicating no weakening on the question of hours or a national settlement, the Manifesto states that "provided the Federation is satisfied that the reconstruction of the industry on the lines recommended by the Royal Commission is genuinely taken in hand by both the Government and the owners, it is ready, at any moment, to discuss wages either with the Government or with the owners."	The Governor General rushed back to Zamboanga from Jolo at full speed when the news was flashed to the Apo that a clash between Moros and Filipinos had been narrowly averted. He administered a severe verbal reprimand to the Filipinos in the presence of Colonel Thompson.	There are various accounts of what actually occurred in regard to this latter incident, but it appears that a motor boat, in which were Mr. J. W. Banbury (an American) and Mr. Charles Lillcrap (a Britisher), as well as several Chinese, was coming towards the Bund from a vessel in port when the pickets started firing at the craft. When the boat came alongside, Mr. Lillcrap managed to get ashore, but he was	After the meeting, those in charge proceeded to the Government headquarters, where a petition was presented, and later there was a procession through the main streets of the city.
A "RED" REVERSE.	FIGHT FOR WUCHANG.	MILITARY ACTION?	YANGTZE OUTRAGES.	BROKEN FAITH CHARGED.	TROUBLE AT SWATOW.	TO STRENGTHEN "BLOCKADE."
The attempt of the Kuomintang Army, on August 19th, to invade Kiangsi, by way of Pingkiang, failed, and the loss to the "Reds," according to an "anti-Red" report, included the disarming of the 7th Division belonging to the 3rd Corps of General Chu Pei-teh. The "Reds" are said to have spent more than $200,000 trying to bribe a Kiangsi division commander into surrender, but two regimental colonels objected to the deal and attacked the "Reds" instead of going over to the colour of the Kuomintang.	Southerners in Fierce All-Day Battle.	The same correspondent suggested, as he (Lord Farnham) understood it, that there should be military co-operative action by this country, America, Japan, and probably France. That was a very serious suggestion indeed, and he did not know whether it had been brought to the attention of his Majesty's Government. The correspondent suggested that there should be this military interference on the ground—and the words were somewhat familiar—"that the liberation of the suffering Chinese people from the oppression of their ruthless, self-appointed saviours" was necessary for both the future of China and the prestige of the Powers he had named. He would be glad to hear from the Government, first, that there had not been the failure which The Times correspondent had suggested; and, secondly, and still more, that there was no probability of military aggressive action under the plea that the Chinese were not to be left under their own appointed rulers.	Southerners Fire on Foreign Ships.	The Moro witnesses said that the Filipinos deliberately broke the agreement to remain on one side of the plaza while the Moros remained on the other, until the President's envoy had arrived ashore, but had rushed to the dock and staged an independence demonstration.	In consequence of repeated seizures by Swatow strike pickets of British goods on Chinese steamers before the cargoes have passed through the Customs, the Commissioner of Customs will probably close the port of Swatow from to-day (Monday), says a message received from the coast port.	The news is borne out by private advices received by local firms, which state that there is every possibility of the closing of the port.
On hearing of the uprising of "anti-Reds" in the eastern districts of Kwangtung, the acting Commander-in-Chief in Canton is dispatching four gunboats to Swatow and also utilizing the recruits of the active service.	Hankow, Aug. 27.	As to Canton, he would like to know what was the attitude of the Government toward the suggestion	Hankow, Aug. 26.	The Moro witnesses said that "only out of respect for Colonel Luther Stevens and Major Allen Fletcher and other army officers" did they refrain from attacking the Christian Filipinos.	The news is borne out by private advices received by local firms, which state that there is every possibility of the closing of the port.	Whether the Commissioner's threat has been put into execution, it has been impossible to discover. The local Commissioner, interviewed this morning, stated that he had not been advised of the closing of the port.
The Government in Canton denies that many of the officers and men of the Army are deserting. From a report of the 2nd Division Commander, it is shown that during July only 252 officers and men had deserted.	A telegram just received by Headquarters from the front states that the southern forces commenced a concentrated drive this morning on the Allied left flank, near Hsienning, which is only 50 miles from Wuchang. The fighting was most fierce all day.	As to Canton, he would like to know what was the attitude of the Government toward the suggestion	There are numerous reports from up the river of the firing on passenger steamers by the Southern forces. Messrs. Butterfield and Swire's boat the Shaal and the Japanese steamers Yuenkiang Maru and Tachi Maru all having suffered.	Colonel Thompson believes that a serious situation existed in Zamboanga.	The news is borne out by private advices received by local firms, which state that there is every possibility of the closing of the port.	Whether the Commissioner's threat has been put into execution, it has been impossible to discover. The local Commissioner, interviewed this morning, stated that he had not been advised of the closing of the port.
Representative Kuomintang leaders in Canton are to hold a meeting to-day (August 30th) to display their loyalty to the Party and to what they can, other than by military service, to promote the success of the Northern Expedition.	Wu Pei-fu has arrived on the scene of the action and is personally directing the Allied defensive.	As to Canton, he would like to know what was the attitude of the Government toward the suggestion	The Indo-China s.s. Kiangwo arrived this morning, absolutely bullet-riddled and with three of the Chinese passengers severely injured and one sailor slightly wounded.	The Governor General's findings, at the conclusion of the investigation, were entirely in favour of the Moros. He appeared bitter in denouncing the conduct of the Christian Filipinos.	The news is borne out by private advices received by local firms, which state that there is every possibility of the closing of the port.	Whether the Commissioner's threat has been put into execution, it has been impossible to discover. The local Commissioner, interviewed this morning, stated that he had not been advised of the closing of the port.
CANTON'S FORMER AIRMEN.	have been carried out between this hour and 8.30, when Mr. Bliss's son went down into the sitting room, adjoining which is the dining room. Both these rooms are on the ground floor and were the only ones entered by the burglar.	As to Canton, he would like to know what was the attitude of the Government toward the suggestion	The firing occurred yesterday morning at 9.30, in the vicinity of Chenglin. Fortunately, the master had been forewarned by the Tachi Maru, which was going up the river, with the result that a barricade of bags of beans was erected on deck and around the bridge, which later effectually prevented serious casualties.	"The Moros participating in the welcome to Colonel Thompson" said Governor Wood, "adhered strictly to their agreement but the Filipinos broke faith. A very serious situation in which bloodshed was averted by the merest chance and quick action of Colonel Stevens and Major Fletcher and their associates, holding the Moros in check and reminding them of their promises."	The news is borne out by private advices received by local firms, which state that there is every possibility of the closing of the port.	Whether the Commissioner's threat has been put into execution, it has been impossible to discover. The local Commissioner, interviewed this morning, stated that he had not been advised of the closing of the port.
Reports are current that the "anti-Reds" have secured the services of most of the former airmen of the Canton Aviation Bureau. These men, who are mostly Overseas Chinese who have been trained in foreign countries, were extremely active and enthusiastic in their work in Canton before the arrival of the Russians, but they have gradually left the service, objecting to control by Russian aviators. The first batch to resign from the aerial service, joined Lu Yung-hsiang, and Ho Fung-lum when Chekiang and Kiangsu were in conflict over the question of the jurisdiction of Shanghai. Later, when Sun Chuan-fang came into power, the services of many of these were retained by this General, whilst others went into the service of Chang Tso-lin. It is now reported that Sun Chuan-fang has secured the services of the remainder of the original Canton aviators, and that these are being despatched to Kiangsi and Hupeh against the Revolutionary Army.	From these rooms and from the verandah the following articles were stolen, according to a report received by the police from Mr. Bliss:—An Underwood typewriter, two clocks, two ladies' waterpots, two umbrellas, a silver photo frame, and three ash trays. The total value of these articles is $360.	As to Canton, he would like to know what was the attitude of the Government toward the suggestion	It is estimated that 1,000 rounds altogether were loosed off, being mostly concentrated on the officers' saloon and quarters.— Reuter .	"These islands are owned by the United States and the United States is interested in all people living in them. The United States is anxious to have the Moros and Christian Filipinos live together in an orderly fashion. But the action of the Christian Filipinos is anything but a credit to them and it will take a long time to remove the stain. As a leading official of the province, Governor Asinero cannot escape a share in responsibility for the trouble."	The news is borne out by private advices received by local firms, which state that there is every possibility of the closing of the port.	Whether the Commissioner's threat has been put into execution, it has been impossible to discover. The local Commissioner, interviewed this morning, stated that he had not been advised of the closing of the port.
This movement would seem to indicate that General Ngai Bong-ping is now in active service in the Northern Army, since it is well-known that the original members of the Canton Aviation Corps have always been loyal to him. Ngai Bong-ping was the victor of the first expedition against Kwangsi, during Chan Kwang-ming's regime.	This is the second time within a few weeks that Mr. Bliss has been victimised.	As to Canton, he would like to know what was the attitude of the Government toward the suggestion	meeting to-morrow night, and that the debate in the House of Commons on Tuesday might have an important bearing on subsequent moves.	PARLIAMENT RE-ASSEMBLES.	The news is borne out by private advices received by local firms, which state that there is every possibility of the closing of the port.	Whether the Commissioner's threat has been put into execution, it has been impossible to discover. The local Commissioner, interviewed this morning, stated that he had not been advised of the closing of the port.
It is also reported that the missing aeroplane of the Revolutionary Army has been found disabled in the Kut On district, and that it has been declared prize of war by the Kiangsi authorities. ## MAGASIN GENERAL

THEFT OF GAS.

A HEAVY FINE.

The systematic and continuous theft of gas by connecting a pipe to the Gas Company's mains was disclosed recently and, after a search warrant had been applied for, a visit was made to 938, Canton Road, where it was found that the inmates were using gas without a meter. The person in charge at the time was arrested by the police and brought before Mr. J. H. B. Nicholl at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday on a charge of theft.

Mr. H. C. Macnamara appeared on behalf of the Hongkong and China Gas Company and Mr. J. A. G. Leask represented the defendant.

A Chinese detective was called and he gave evidence of visiting the shop and arresting the defendant, who was the accountant. The rent receipts were asked for and when produced it was found that the principal tenant was not on the premises.

Mr. Macnamara intimated that he admitted the defendant was not the principal tenant.

Mr. J. H. Hunt, superintendent of the Fittings Department of the Gas Company, stated that he personally supervised the installation of fittings in the defendant's shop at 938, Canton Road, in February, 1922. The service pipe was disconnected in January, 1923, and since then there had never been any meter on the premises.

When the meter was removed the pipe from the mains protruding from the ground was left intact outside the defendant's shop.

How Gas Was Stolen.

On the 24th inst. after the defendant's arrest, witness visited the premises where he found that the pipe had been removed from the outside wall. The end had been turned and concealed under the footpath with an extension leading into the shop underneath the floor. It led to the accountant's office and protruded from the ground underneath the bed. From there two pipes were connected and they ran into the kitchen.

Witness inspected the cook house and found the pipes had been connected to the burners of seven stoves, which witness could say with certainty were, there without the knowledge or consent of his Company.

In reply to Mr. Leask witness said that the fittings had been used for a considerable time some, where, but he could not say if they had been used in any other place before they were put in the defendant's premises.

This concluded the case for the prosecution.

Mr. Macnamara said that he would explain his case first. He said that on the facts the defendant must at least be guilty of simple larceny and theft of gas. In substantiation of his argument, Mr. Macnamara cited the case Regina v. Firth, in which Firth, the son of the proprietor, who was convicted, was not the owner of the shop. The two cases were identical with the exception that the gas in the case of Firth was used for lighting purposes and in the present case the fluid was used by the defendant for cooking.

A Continuous Act.

Mr. Macnamara described the theft as a continuous act and the prosecution had therefore only to prove that the defendant was in charge of the premises at the time the gas was being used. If that fact were established there was larceny at that particular moment. The defendant, who was on the premises at the time, was not so unsophisticated as not to know that the gas was being used.

If the defendant was not the principal he was aiding and abetting in the theft and Mr. Macnamara went on to quote authorities in support of his point. The prosecution was not asking for a conviction because the defendant was a servant in the shop, as was intimated at the last hearing, but because he was in charge of the premises at the time.

The Gas Company was being systematically robbed and the defendant was in charge. When a man left his servant in charge, continued Mr. Macnamara, it was open to His Worship to convict him for simple larceny, or as having aided and abetted in a systematic larceny of gas extending over a particular period.

Common Ground.

Mr. Leask in reply said that in view of what his friend had said he did not propose to call any evidence, as both parties agreed on most of the facts. The defendant admitted being a servant and was found on the premises at the time.

Mr. Macnamara went too far when he said that the defendant controlled the management of the firm.

Mr. Macnamara rose and pointed out that he had said that the defendant was in charge of the shop.

Continuing, Mr. Leask said that the defendant was the accountant and had nothing to do with the cooking. It was the master who was responsible.

No Active Interest.

Referring to the case Regina v. Firth, Mr. Leask said that it was a matter of father and son, where the latter had an active interest in the business. In the present case the defendant only recently came from the country and did not take an active part in the running of the firm's business.

It was unfortunate that the master was in Hongkong when the Police visited the premises and the defendant was a victim of circumstances by being on the floor at the time.

Quoting from a legal authority under the heading of "Master's civil liabilities to a third person," Mr. Leask said that if an employer by means of an innocent agent or servant committed a crime, it was the employer and not the agent who was accountable.

Mr. Leask said that it was not to be expected for the man to report his master's wrongs to the Police. His only knowledge would have been that the defendant had not paid any gas bills during his employment as accountant. He (Mr. Leask) did not see that the defendant had done anything wrong in continuing in his master's employment. He took no part in the larceny of the gas. He might be found guilty because the gas was burning but he thought it was a very fine point.

His Worship: Then do you admit that he knew it was wrong, but would not report it because it was his master?

Mr. Leask: I do not admit that he knew it was wrong.

He knew, continued Mr. Leask, from the books that he had never paid any gas bills, but he did not suggest he was a party in the act.

WALK TO WORK.

DOCTOR'S MEDAL FOR 1,000 MILES A YEAR.

Dr. John H. Finley, an American physician, offered last spring a bronze medal to each of the first thousand men or women who walked a thousand miles in twelve months, including a single day's walk of twenty-five miles.

The twelve months have ended, and a number of men and women, among them a convict and a teacher in China, claim the award. A woman of forty-six claims the medal on the ground that within the stipulated period she tramped, in quest of health, from Springfield, Massachusetts, to the shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre, in Quebec, and back, completing nearly 2,000 miles before she returned home.

She had very little money, and refused all offers of "lift" along the roads, accepting the hospitality of kindly farmers' wives. Like the pilgrims of old, she offered prayers of intercession in return for the night's food and lodging.

Another woman suffered a nervous collapse on the death of her father. She was urged by the doctors to walk away her grief, and before the middle of March had completed 1,400 miles.

A school teacher, depressed and physically run down, decided to qualify for the medal by walking the four and a half miles to school every day. It took him two weeks to learn to rise sufficiently early for the walk, but he states that it has made a new man of him. The log submitted by one claimant tells a dogged story of determination. This walker made almost every mile of this 1,000 on Manhattan Island, that is, New York City.

He conscientiously carried out his resolution to tramp three miles daily, but the hot weather towards the end of June caused him temporarily to succumb to laziness. He resumed, however, in October, walking from his home to his office, a distance of seven miles, every morning.

All went well until he took a fortnight's holiday in December, when he was expected to wheel his small daughter's perambulator on his walks. This reduced his average, but he redeemed it later when, ordered for jury duty, he walked ten miles daily from his home to the town hall.

Dr. Finley himself thinks nothing of a forty-mile walk, which he accomplishes in a little more than ten hours, frequently by moonlight.

His records include a forty-mile walk in France on the eve of the great war, a sixty-mile walk in a day and a night in the Holy Land, and a seventy-mile walk across New Hampshire.

He urges a daily three-mile walk for the sake of body and spirit, and declares that every man and woman who accomplishes this has his or her own reward.

From the little village of Nam Ping-Wel, in the Autau district, New Territories, comes the report of a robbery on Saturday afternoon, as a result of which jewellery and money to the value of $1,467, the property of a married woman, were stolen. One of the villagers is being detained and questioned as to his alleged knowledge of the affair.

MUSIC OR NOISE!

WHAT IS WRONG WITH OUR DANCE MUSIC?

At the present time, writes Mr. H. St. John Ramsay, there is a good deal of criticism on dance music, and that criticism is becoming too frequent and too logical to be ignored with impunity. The classical fanatic who jeers at everything but chamber music is out of touch with our subject, but the critic who enjoyed the fox-trots two or three years ago, and decries them now, has some valuable and constructive criticism to offer.

First of all dance music must be music: by music we mean that we want melody and rhythm. The basic rhythm of the fox-trot some few years ago offered such an inspiration to dancers that ballroom dancing was raised to a standard undreamed of hitherto. Not only was the standard of the experts excellent, but dancing recruits poured in, and we had a dancing boom. In plain words, dance music was responsible for the quantity and quality of ballroom dancing.

Unfortunately, during the last year melody and rhythm have become more and more obscured by sudden and jarring noises, by breaking the rhythm so frequently that the original beat is lost. Liveliness is an essential in dance music; a "ding dong" rhythm is dull, heavy, and monotonous; we want ornamentation and variety, but we want them in addition to melody and rhythm, not instead of them.

Something Radically Wrong.

To furnish a room is to decorate it; to overfurnish it, is to spoil it. The fox-trot at the moment is sadly over-furnished with too much "broken rhythm," too much "trick-playing," so that the true rhythm is lost, and the melody is drowned. Many hands in their anxiety to avoid monotony, have rushed into it. A "ding dong" tune is monotonous, but an incessant clanging of noises is monotonous intensified. A fox-trot is the rage to-day and forgotten to-morrow: something is radically wrong, we need more melody and rhythm in our dance music.

The reform needed is twofold. We want better rendering of our dance music.

The reform needed is twofold. We want better rendering of our dance numbers, and we want a supply of dance numbers, which are worthy of the skill of musicians.

Taking the first of these points:—The musicians who combine to form the best of the London dance bands have sufficient skill and training to indulge in occasional "instrumental trick-playing" without upsetting the melody and rhythm, but the average band would be wise to omit efforts to produce startling effects, and to confine themselves to play the music in front of them in correct tempo and rhythm. Only the best acrobats are capable of becoming successful clowns: only the most capable musicians can indulge in trick-playing without producing noise instead of music.

Too Much Trick-Playing.

When we turn our attention to the second question under discussion we are forced to admit that many of the dance numbers written and published are deficient in the essentials, melody and rhythm, and the poor quality of many of the more recent fox-trots may be blamed for offering to the bands an excuse for too much trick-playing, because the melody and rhythm are not sufficiently good to interest the public without the inclusion of "stunts."

Music inspires the dancers, but mere noise is no inspiration, and eventually wears its listeners. At the present time there seems every chance that we shall have a "slump" in ballroom dancing. Noise will slowly and surely kill dancing. On the other hand, music—i.e., melody and rhythm will just as surely keep it on the upward grade in quality and quantity.

Over 600 leaders of the Sarekat Rayat, (Popular Revolutionary Party) have been jailed in West Borneo, most of them at Pontianak. All communication with the headquarters of the Sarekat Rayat in Java has been suspended and all ports in West Borneo have been closed and are being closely watched by the police. The well-known leader, Abdul Chalid Sallim, a native of Sumatra, has been compelled to return to Sumatra, while Dahlay from the west coast of Sumatra, has returned to Batavia.

SHANGHAI UNREST.

STUDENT DEMONSTRATIONS QUELLED.

Shanghai, Aug. 28. Student demonstrations took place locally in connexion with the "Red Strike" propaganda. Students gathered in Nanking Road waving flags and making demonstrations against the Japanese mill owners.

The Police were fully prepared and dispersed the demonstrators, but at one time it was necessary to make a baton charge.

In the northern district the position looked serious, but the Police succeeded in controlling attempts at rioting, the agitators retreating to the Chinese territory.

Several students have been arrested for distributing Red pamphlets.

The demonstrations emphasise the seriousness of the labour situation in Shanghai.—Reuter.

Against Japanese.

Shanghai, Aug. 29. Judging from handbills distributed, the disturbances yesterday were the result of agitation after the death of a Chinese hawk aboard a Japanese ship on August 6th, and were directed only against the Japanese.

Eighteen agitators have been arrested. The total arrests over the week-end are thirty-four.

The mill situation in Shanghai is unchanged, but conditions are better at Pootung.—Reuter.

THE TANGIER QUESTION.

SUGGESTED CONFERENCE DECLINED.

London, Aug. 28. It is confirmed in well-informed sources in London that Spain has suggested a conference at Geneva on Wednesday to consider the Spanish claim to Tangier on the eve of the League Council meeting.

It is understood that Great Britain will reply at the earliest opportunity. There is a natural reluctance at present to discuss the terms of the reply, but the general impression is that no useful purpose will be served by a conference at short notice which should be postponed till after the League Council meeting, the primary object of which is to arrange for Germany's admission to the League and no extraneous issues should be permitted to interfere.

It is expected that France will support Great Britain.—Reuter.

Italy's Attitude.

Rome, Aug. 28. Italy has replied to the Spanish note assuring the latter of Italy's desire to meet all of Spain's just demands, and agreeing to Spain's suggestion that the Tangier problem be submitted to an international conference of the powers interested.

Italian political circles infer from this that the Italian Government is not willing to let the problem be submitted to the League of Nations.—Reuter.

KENYA'S RESOURCES.

EXPLORATION FOR OIL AND COAL.

Nairobi, Aug. 28. A local syndicate which has been exploring the oil and coal concessions in the coastal area of Kenya for the past five years has raised considerable capital from Johannesburg financial groups to enable further investigations by experts. Drillers are already working.—Reuter.

CHINA'S WARS.

THE HUPUI SITUATION CRITICAL.

Nanking, Aug. 28. General Sun Chuan-fang, as stated that the position in Hupui is obviously critical, and, if the Southerners occupied Wuchang and Hankow, it would be worse. Consequently he has ordered part of his force to prepare mobilization. He is closely watching the situation, and his force might participate against the southerners.

Siberian passengers arriving at Harbin on Friday assert that General Feng Yu-hsiang, in a special car, accompanied them as far as Vorkhoudinsk, where he remained on August 24. According to other information Feng subsequently went on to Urga.—Reuter.

Volunteers Disarmed.

Shanghai, Aug. 29. Some sensation was created yesterday, when, apparently under orders from Sun Chuan-fang, all Chinese in the so-called "Volunteers" of Chapel and Nanto districts in Shanghai, numbering seven hundred, were disarmed. They were ordered to parade without arms yesterday morning when they were informed that their corps was dissolved.

Some were despatched to Nanking, possibly for enrolment in the Army.

Foreign Warships Move.

H. M. S. Despatch, which arrived at Shanghai over the week-end, has left for Hankow in view of the political situation, and will be followed by a French man-of-war due in Shanghai on August 30.—Reuter.

GERMAN DISARMAMENT.

SABRE RATTLING AT NUREMBERG.

Nuremberg, Aug. 28. At 4.45 this afternoon, at a signal to be given by a peal of bells in all churches, the picturesque city will honour those fallen in the Great War for whom memorial services will be held as the forerunner of a monster rally of German Nationalists throughout the country on Sunday, headed by Prince Rupprecht, of Bavaria, and attended by the ex-Kaiser's son, Prince Oskar of Prussia, Von Mackensen, Von Scheer, Vondergoltz and a galaxy of princes, princesses and war heroes.

The city is lavishly bedecked with the old Bavarian Monarchist colours. The streets are swarming with officers of the old army wearing pre-war uniforms with glittering decorations and medals.

The Nationalist organ, Frankfurter Kurier, in an editorial greets the participants in the demonstration: "We deliberately reject the cry of 'No more war' and will devote ourselves to the fight for freedom of the Fatherland."—Reuter.

PROMINENT FRENCH BANKER'S DEATH.

M. JULES REIN.

Paris, August 29. The death is announced of M. Jules Rein, Administrator of the Banque de Paris for the Netherlands.—Reuter.

NEW AMBASSADOR.

M. DAESCHNER TO SUCCEED M. SARRAUT.

Paris, Aug. 28. The appointment is expected shortly of M. Daeschner, formerly Ambassador at Washington, as successor to Mr. Sarraut, as Ambassador to Angola.—Reuter.

YOUR INTEREST IN LIFE
On What Does It Depend?

In the stress of modern existence there are occasions when, despite reasonable precautions, the system becomes enfeebled. Interest in daily affairs wanes; zest for food is lacking; and a feeling of dullness possesses and overwhelms the busy worker.

It is then that a tonic is indicated—something that "tones" the system and renews vigour by gentle stimulation of the functions. There are numerous medicinal agents that will accomplish this. Not a few, however, do so at the ultimate expense of the system. Their effect is much like that of alcohol, creating a false exhilaration, and their after-effects are as undesirable.

In these conditions of physical depression all that is necessary, usually, to restore appetite, vitality and strength is a short course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, the renowned tonic which represents in the fullest possible measure concentrated vigour in a form that is convenient to take and readily assimilated. By purifying and enriching the blood, and by rapidly increasing the red corpuscles in the blood, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the nerves, renew the digestive powers, impart fresh strength to the whole system. These benefits are permanent, as has been proved by the many thousands of weak, anaemic, nerveracked sufferers whom they have restored to health and a cheery enjoyment of life during the past five-and-thirty years. Your chemist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, or sent post free, $1.50 per bottle, $8 for six bottles, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kiangse Road, Shanghai. Nothing else is "just as good."

THE COAL OUTLOOK

In view of the often repeated
and very definite statements by the Prime Minister and other members of the Government that there would be no renewal of the subsidy, one wonders on what basis rested the hope of the miners' leaders
when they asked the Government representatives to meet them in London on Thursday, because the miners went to that meeting with no new suggestion
and only reiterated their hope that the Government would give financial assistance. The Government has now made it clear that no assistance of any kind, either by way of a subsidy or even a loan,
can be given from the public funds

and that the miners and the owners must settle their differences on an economic basis. Fortunately,
the Government is in a position to carry on the essential life of the nation with the miners still out on strike, thanks to big imports of coal from the Continent,
and the miners must now begin to realise that they are going to lose this fight and lose it badly.
In the first place, a good many of the miners have gone back to work and a sufficiently large number of the others are working outcrop
coal that goes to weaken the weapons of war being used by the Federation. With over a million tons of coal a week available, the Government is in no mood to do anything else than tell the miners to settle direct with the owners and this is what the Miners' Federation is avoiding because that means giving up something of the strong standpoint maintained all along. The owners will not concede the principle of a national settlement, and they also want to take full advantage of the new Eight Hour Act, whereas the miners' leaders are contending that a seven-hour day ought to be restored and that a settlement on national lines is the only one possible. There is such a clear difference between the two that it will have to come to a point of surrender, and the minor is obviously the man who is going to be forced to give in, unless he can persuade the Government to tide matters over pending a further reassessment of the whole position by the parties. The Government refuses.

We imagine that in the discussion which is to take place in the House of Commons to-morrow
there will be much opposition

criticism of the stand which the Government has taken up, and we must confess that we would rather there could be a settlement by genuine negotiation than by the way of forcing the miners, economically, to give up all they have been fighting for. We are ready to concede that the miners might have come to a satisfactory agreement earlier if they had been a little less obstinate, and we are also ready to concede that the Government cannot undertake to subsidise any one industry at the expense of the others. But we doubt the wisdom, in the larger interests of future industrial peace, of forcing the miners to give in by simply not giving way to them. The owners have been nearly as obstinate as the men. They have maintained that they cannot run
the industry at a profit on pre-stoppage terms, and the men have maintained that they cannot live on the level they should if those pre-stoppage terms are lowered.
The whole burden of the adjustment is, the miner asserts, on him,
whereas it ought to be shared.
Even if for no other purpose than to convince the miners that they are being given a fair deal we would rather see them persuaded and placated than be so obviously beaten. A discontented man, compelled by force of circumstances to go back to work on terms he considers unfair, is not an asset for industrial peace. When this dispute is settled we would sooner see it settled in a manner which gives some satisfaction to both sides instead of as a knock-down.
Unfortunately, there seems to be little hope of anything else.

The Chinese War.

Interest in China's latest civil war centres at the moment on the military operations in the central provinces. It is now clear that the Kuomintang forces have secured quite a number of victories, and if Canton reports be true, they are getting within striking distance of Wuchang, which is only just across the river
from Hanhow, the headquarters of Marshal Wu Pei-fu. This,
as is well known, is their immediate objective. In the meantime,
there is much speculation with regard to the tactics of Marshal Wu,
who has only recently returned to Hankow from Peking. One report says that the advance of the Southern troops has not been opposed on tactical grounds, and that both Marshal Wu and Marshal Chang Tso-lin are alive to the value of inducing the enemy to get far away from his base. Time will tell whether that is the case or not;
certainly it is that the Canton armies
are now a long way from home,
and it may well become increasingly difficult for them to keep the lines of communication open. It is well to remember, also, that the issue is not likely to be solely fought out in Central China. The Northern operations must be kept in mind; and then there is the possibility of attacks on Kwangtung
both from Yunnan and also by naval forces. In this latter connection a definite move by General Sun Chuan-fang is awaited. The alliance between the Kuomintang and the Kuomintang appears to have been made definite by the adhesion of Marshal Feng Yu-hsiang
(The "Christian" General) to the latter party and his admission as a member of the Canton Government.
One result of this is to clarify the situation, for now we know who the "Reds" really are. The whole situation is full of interesting possibilities, and from now onwards
we may expect to see important developments occurring.

Commander Francis Henry Boyer, R.N., who was killed while walking along the Tolo Valley railway line during a fishing expedition, was 75 years of age and began his naval service in 1867.
As a sub-lieutenant, he was awarded the silver medal of the Royal Humane Society for jumping overboard and trying to rescue a seaman of H.M.S. Modeste, who was struck by a sea and washed overboard at Elme-Sama Roads, Japan,
in November, 1877. Commander Boyer was the inventor of an apparatus for telephonic communication between ships at sea.

CORRESPONDENCE.

HONGKONG NEEDS.

[To the Editor of the Hongkong
Telegraph.]

Sir,—The longer I live in Hongkong, the more convinced am I that some people are either superoptimists or simpletons.

When the Government announced
the appointment of a Committee to enquire into, and make recommendations on the bathing question, previous experience should have taught all the unimportant British residents that they might as well expect to extract blood out of a stone as to imagine that any public and modern facility would be allowed them.

How often has it been urged that Hongkong needs a City Hall? How many articles and plans have appeared in the Press for modern transport service across the harbour, capable of carrying vehicles?
How many times has it been pointed out that the Peak districts need fire-fighting appliances? How many times has it been urged that the main hospital should be removed from its unhealthy site in the midst of the din and disease of an overpopulated Chinese district? How many times has it been recorded that Happy Valley has again been flooded? How many times has it been pointed out that suitable and attractive accommodation should be provided for those who desire to indulge in the natural recreation
in such a climate—bathing?

I believe that I am right in saying that the Hongkong Hotel Company once offered to develop the beach at Repulse Bay on lines which would have been a credit to the Colony, but that the Government refused to sanction the scheme. British residents in Hongkong have little or no voice in any question. It is no credit to those in authority that such a state of affairs should exist, and it is about time that a public protest was made and submitted to the Colonial Office.

posal dealing with the composition of the Council is slightly modified.—Reuter.

the crate fulfilled the require-

DEATH OF MR. HO FOOK.*PASSING OF A CHINESE GENTLEMAN.

It is with deep and sincere regret that we have to record the death of Mr. Ho Fook, one of Hongkong's best-known and most prominent members of the Chinese community, which took place yesterday afternoon. The deceased gentleman recently underwent an operation, and although his numerous relatives and friends were hopeful of his recovery, he suffered a relapse yesterday and passed away during the afternoon.

The deceased gentleman will always be remembered by his many friends as a man of sterling worth and integrity—a true gentleman, whom to know was to love. Although of a quiet and unassuming disposition, he took a considerable part in public life and was most popular amongst all classes. In business circles he was looked upon as a man of rare judgment and ability, whilst in social life he was known for his geniality and all-round courtesy. By his death, also the poor have lost a true friend. In the heavy bereavement which they have been called upon to bear, the widow and family will have the sincerest sympathy of numerous friends.

Mr. Ho Fook was born in Hongkong, brother of two other leaders in the Chinese community, Sir Robert Ho Tung and Mr. Ho Kung-tong. He was educated at the Central School, now Queen's College, and in early manhood commenced what proved a highly successful career in business. He was compradore for some years of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson and Co., and later had other interests tending towards local commercial and industrial development. In these and in his public work he came into contact with many foreigners and Chinese whose firm regard he invariably won.

Mr. Ho Fook retired from active business life about 10 years ago. To the end, however, he retained his capable faculties, his genial outlook, quiet reserve and much of his energy.

In public life Mr. Ho Fook's principal post was his appointment to the Legislative Council as one of the two Chinese representatives. In 1917 he succeeded the late Sir Boshan Wei Yuk, and his appointment was well-received. With his then colleague, the late Mr. Lau Chu-pak, he ably represented the Chinese. He retired, however, in 1921. He has been a Justice of the Peace since 1892, was a member of the Chinese Permanent Cemetery Committee, the Chinese Public Dispensaries Committee, the Tung Wa Hospital Advisory Board, District Watchmen's Committee and the Po Leung Kuk. He gave largely to the Hongkong University and was a member of the Court. He was, in fact, responsible for the establishment of the School of Physiology there, and was the founder of several scholarships, his interest in education being always very keen. Another movement with which he was actively associated was the District Watchmen's organisation, having been one of the founders thereof. Of the many other positions which the deceased held may be mentioned membership of the Peace Celebrations Committee, the Prince of Wales' Reception Committee, the Queen's College Old Boys' Association Committee, and the Trade Loan Board.

In his early life, Mr. Ho Fook was engaged for a brief time with a Chinese hong in Haiphong, and in 1882 he joined the Registrar General's Department of the Hongkong Government as a translator. Later he became interpreter for the legal firm of Denny and Mossop, and in 1891 he joined Messrs. Jardine, Matheson and Co. as assistant compradore. It was when his brother, Sir Robert Ho Tung, retired in 1900 that Mr. Ho Fook became compradore of the Prince

MACAO HARBOUR.*COMPLETION OF FIRST STAGE.

Our Macao correspondent, reporting on the completion of the first section of the new Harbour Works, states that the celebrations were of a most enthusiastic character, being attended by a large gathering, which proceeded to the works by launches. Amongst those present were Messrs. Gellion, Deschamps, Varela, Faulkner, Mr. and Mrs. Cabral and daughters, Major, Mrs. and Miss Lacerda, Miss Lebat, Messrs. Rego and C. Machado, of the Harbour Works, Mr. and Mrs. Borges, Mr. Rocha (Deputy for Macao), the Colonial Treasurer and many others.

Aboard the gunboat Patria, refreshments were served and then a move was made to the new port, on entering which salutes were fired and sirens blown from the beflagged boats. On coming to anchor, ten was served on the Patria, while dancing was also indulged in.

His Excellency the Governor made an inspection of the works and on his return speeches were delivered by the Governor, Mr. Deschamps and the Captain of the Patria. In his speech, the Governor said that day marked a new era in the endeavour to regain for Macao her old commercial eminence.

The day's arrangements were in the able hands of Mr. J. Alves and Mr. Pires, of the Harbour Works.

BACK TO GAOL.*ONLY CAME OUT ON SATURDAY.

"You started again the very moment you got out of gaol," said Mr. R. E. Lindsell to a Chinese breaking into two houses at West Point and stealing five pieces of clothing.

The defendant was discharged from Victoria Gaol only last Saturday on completion of a term for stealing, and on the same night he climbed a drainpipe and got into two houses at Queen's Road West. The noise caused by the opening of a drawer woke up an inmate, and the thief was caught red-handed.

Replying to the Magistrate, the defendant said that he wanted to return to the country, but, lacking the necessary funds, he thought he might be able to realise the wherewithal on this night job.

His Worship:—Well, you go back to prison for another two months.

CHINESE TOWKAY'S DEATH.*FOUND HANGING IN CABIN.

The death of a well-known Chinese shipper and planter was reported when the steamer Khoo Hoen arrived at Singapore a few days ago from Pontianak.

The Khoo Hoen, one of three vessels operated by the Thong Elk Steamship Company on the Singapore-Pontianak run, left Pontianak on the 21st inst. with Mr. Theng Seng Kie, managing director of the company, on board. When the boat took early morning tea to Mr. Theng Seng Kie's cabin the next morning, he found the deceased hanging by a belt round his neck, the belt being attached to a pipe.

The body was cut down, but life was extinct.

The late Mr. Theng Seng Kie resided in Pontianak, where he had extensive rubber and copra interests, but he made frequent business trips to Singapore and was well-known there. It is said that he had been worried by financial and family troubles. He was a native of Swatow and was 59 years of age.

ly House, being succeeded some years ago in the post by his son, Mr. Ho Leung, who still holds this important position.

Mr. Ho Fook would have been 63 years old this coming November. He was the father of a well-known family. His surviving sons are Mr. Ho Lu, Mr. Ho Kwong, Dr. S. C. Ho, Mr. Ho Leung and Mr. Ho Ki. Most of these hold important connections as compradores or on the staffs of important local banks and firms.

The funeral takes place on Tuesday from the family residence, 15 Kennedy Road, at 2 p.m., arriving at Yat Pit Tsi, Kennedy Town, at 4.30 p.m.

FORMER MANAGER SUED.*CHINESE SUMMARY COURT CLAIM.

A Chinese firm sued a former manager, before Mr. Justice Wood in the Summary Court this morning, for the sum of $847.04, monies received by the defendant on behalf of the plaintiffs. Mr. J. T. Prior appeared for the complainants, and Mr. F. E. Nash defended.

Mr. Prior said the money was received by the defendant for the plaintiff firm. The defendant left the firm on July 7th of this year. After the accounts had been examined, it was found that $610 which should have been in hand was not there, and an entry was made in the accountant's book to that effect in the defendant's hand. Mr. Prior produced a promissory note which, he said, was signed by the defendant for $610. He added he was not suing under that, but was putting it in as evidence.

His Lordship:—Doesn't that amount to a discharge?

Mr. Nash:—It does and that is my case, my Lord.

Mr. Prior:—I don't think it was ever accepted.

His Lordship:—Well, it is in your custody.

Mr. Prior:—We cannot help documents being handed to us by defendant. I don't think we have ever given a receipt for it.

His Lordship:—You have accepted delivery of it.

Mr. Prior replied that he had been handicapped in the case because he had not had a word from the other side as to what the defence was going to be.

Continuing, Mr. Prior said the balance of the money was in the shape of loans made by the defendant, out of money received on behalf of the firm, without any authorisation, to various foks.

His Lordship, after looking through a statement of the sums, remarked that the loans only totalled up to $197.

Mr. Prior replied that that was so. The remaining $40 was part of the item of $30 shown as sundry expenses; $80 for sundry expenses was far in excess of what it ought to be, and the defendant had admitted so, and agreed that $40 was the most they could have amounted to.

His Lordship:—Well, that would really be embezzling of the firm's funds, wouldn't it?

Mr. Prior replied that that depended very much on evidence of intention. The defendant had always been so far perfectly honest about the money in his hands. Of course, if he now tried to deceive his employers it might be a different matter.

The case is proceeding.

WHEAT PRODUCTION.*SMALLER EUROPEAN YIELD EXPECTED.

Rugby, Aug. 29.

The official organ of the Ministry of Agriculture says that the wheat crops in Britain are good but in Europe, generally, the total production will fall short of the heavy yields of last year. In England and Wales there are 100,000 acres under wheat more than last year, and the yield is estimated at approximately 28,600,000 hundredweight, as compared with 27,200,000 in 1925.—British Wireless.

AT THE QUEEN'S.*LAURETTE TAYLOR CREATES HAPPINESS.

Pert and impertinent, Laurette Taylor scores a wonderful success in "Happiness," the film showing to-day at the Queen's Theatre. One has to go a long way to find her equal as a comedienne in the film industry. Her quaint mannerisms keep the audience titillating, while the story has sufficient plot to keep it interesting.

The orchestra gives its version of the latest dance craze "Bobadilla," and the programme is completed by a long news picture, and one of "Our Gang" comedies.

CLEMENCEAU STANDS FIRM.*SATISFIED WITH COOLIDGE LETTER.

Paris, Aug. 29.

M. Clemenceau was waylaid at his Vendee home on returning from shopping, when he told journalists that he was quite satisfied regarding his letter to President Coolidge. He thought he had done the right thing at the right time. He had received numerous epistles from all over the world, but none from his ex-Parliamentarians, and an enormous quantity from America, especially the American Legion, but no abuse. He explained that he intervened after the receipt of a most moving anonymous letter, which worried him, asking whether he was prepared to carry to the grave the responsibility for what was about to happen. M. Clemenceau said he left the Coolidge letter on his table for 24 hours, and then handed it to Havas. He did not think that the debt settlement would be ratified, for he had still got something left to say.

He concluded the interview by complaining about the cost of living. Someone in the market had just offered him a lobster for 78 francs. "Seventy-three francs for a lobster! I did not buy it; I took carrots instead,"—Reuter's American Service.

HAS NO FRIENDS.*TOOK TO OPIUM HABIT.

An old Chinese woman admitted, at the Central Police Court this morning, that she was an addict to opium.

The woman was arrested during the week-end and was now charged with being in possession of a very small quantity of illicit opium. She said, in reply to the charge, that she was taking to the drug habit, because she was without any relatives or friends to depend on.

Mr. Lindsell pointed out that she could have purchased Government opium.

A fine of $100, or six weeks' hard labour, was inflicted.

H.M.S. Durban has been flying the pay-off pennant since Saturday. She leaves for home to-morrow morning, and is to be re-commissioned at Devonport on October 23rd, returning to the China Squadron shortly afterwards.

GERMAN NATIONALISTS.*MONSTER PARADE AT NUREMBERG.

Nuremberg, Aug. 29.

For three hours this morning, Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria and Prince Oscar of Prussia, with Marshal Von Mackensen, surrounded by scores of military and naval officers, stood in brilliant sunshine in the old Market Place and watched a monster rally of German nationalists. Twenty-thousand soldiers goose-stepped past, with bands playing.

Among the eleven hundred banners and flags flying were those borne by ex-colonial soldiers, inscribed "Do not forget our colonies." The utmost enthusiasm prevailed.—Reuter.

WILD ENTHUSIASM.

To-day's demonstration "in memory of Sedan, Tannenberg, Jutland and the Colonies" was a reply to a republican demonstration here last month, which attracted less than one-fourth of to-day's crowd. There were gaily decorated streets where not a single republican flag was visible. There was a constant clicking of heels and bowing as officers met old war comrades. Every window on the route of the procession was packed with spectators, who rained flowers and frantically cheered as practically every nationalist organisation in Germany passed, each with bands and banners and in various uniforms and costumes. To-night there is a general air of festivity, the old Imperial Castle, towering above the city, being illuminated.—Reuter.

DISASTROUS HURRICANE.*BIG LOUISIANA DEATH ROLL.

Washington, Aug. 29.

The Red Cross Society states that the death roll in the Houma (Louisiana) hurricane on Wednesday was twenty-five. The damage to property is put at $5,000,000.—Reuter's American Service.

AMERICA'S RUBBER.

MR. HARVEY FIRESTONE
IN ENGLAND.

New York, Aug. 28.
Mr. H. S. Firestone, Junior, Vice-President of the Firestone Plantation Company, arrived in Southampton from New York on route to Liberia, where he said that America is concentrating her energies to hold a lease of over a million acres, two thousand acres of which are at present under cultivation. It will be some considerable time before rubber is produced extensively.

Mr. Firestone pointed out that American capital would enable him to develop half a million acres of rubber in the Philippines, and if a Bill was passed by the local Legislature, he was of opinion that America would eventually be able to supply her own market.

THE CHINA SITUATION.

LONDON VIEW OF THE WAR.

London, Aug. 29.
Commenting on the latest war
developments in China, the Observer remarks: "Whatever their statesmanship is, some of these soldiers know their business and can move troops."

The article concludes that Chinese affairs habitually avoid a climax but it seems that there is more than the Satrap's fortunes
at stake in the battle now shaping between North and South.—Reuter.

"YOUR GRAVE HAS BEEN FOUND."

OFFICIAL SURPRISE FOR AN EX-SOLDIER.

Mr. J. Varney, of Aylesbury, has been informed, to his great surprise, by the Imperial War Graves Commission that his grave
has been found in France.

He has never occupied the grave,
of course, and, according to an official of the War Graves Commission, it is simply a case of mistaken identity.

"Probably," said the official,
"part of the kit which belonged to Mr. Varney, or some of his personal belongings, were found on the body of another man who was killed. This, perhaps, was the only means of certifying the body, and explains the whole business."

"I was wounded near Pozieres
ten years ago," said Mr. Varney,
"and was discharged. My mother was informed that I was missing when I was actually in a London hospital. Still you see, I am still alive and kicking. The number on the grave is the same as I had when in the Bucks Battalion."

THE COAL STRIKE.

THE RECENT CONFERENCE.

London, Aug. 28.
That the meeting was barren beyond a definite declaration that no Government subsidy or loan would be forthcoming is generally recognised. This morning, commenting on the verbatim report of the Coal Conference, the papers,
according to their political bias,
blame the Government or the miners' leaders respectively for lack of initiative and absence of a sense of responsibility but it is noteworthy that the Liberal paper,
the Daily News, urges the miners
to formulate either a new wage or a new hours plan which stands
a reasonable chance of consideration by the other side.

The Morning Post alone speaks of the possibility of good coming from the conference, believing that the miners will be now convinced that they were misled by their leaders, and that their best hope lies in direct settlement with the employers.

Hopeful Statement.

As the result of the conference
with the Government, Mr. A. J.
Cook has made the following
hopeful statement:

"We have arrived at a stage
when it is possible to secure a negotiated settlement, provided that the Government and ourselves are prepared to grasp the opportunity. I strongly favour advancing definite proposals. I hope that the miners' Committee will advance such proposals enabling the Government to bring the two sides together."

The statement is characterised as one of friendliness toward the Government, Mr. Cook declaring:
"There are some Ministers who are wanting the struggle to end
in an honourable way, without leaving a legacy of bitterness and unrest."

Men Adamant.

The Miners' Federation has issued a manifesto dealing with the situation arising out of the recent conferences with the Mining Association and the Government.

The manifesto states that the Federation is prepared to negotiate
on the question of wages, but reveals that the men are adamant on the question of a seven hours
day and a national agreement.—
Reuter.

Negotiations Desired.

Rugby, Aug. 28.

The prospect of renewed coal discussions conducted on a more definite basis than at Thursday's meeting between the miners' leaders and Ministers is contained in a statement made to Press correspondents by the coal miners' Secretary, Mr. Cook, expressed the view that a stage has been reached when a negotiated settlement is possible, "provided the Government and ourselves are prepared to grasp the opportunity."
He added: "I strongly favour putting forward definite proposals;
and I hope that the Miners' Committee will put forward such proposals as will enable the Government to bring the two sides together."

This appears to be in response to a definite statement made to the press by Mr. Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, that while the possibility of a future Government subsidy to the coal industry must be definitely eliminated, he saw no reason why the difference of views of miners and owners in regard to district or national agreements should not be capable of adjustment, that the miners, "bearing the present
facts of the situation in mind,
must make definite proposals
showing an advance on their previous attitude if the Government were to promote a resumption of negotiations with the owners."

Mr. Cook desires such negotiations and may be expected to urge a meeting of the Miners' Executive on Monday to frame definite proposals which the Government would consider to justify an effort
on their part to bring both sides together again. Mr. Cook apparently wishes a joint meeting under an independent chairman appointed by the Government.

The Miners' Executive on Monday also meets the Labour Members of Parliament prior to the debate in the House of Commons on the dispute. The Labour parliamentarians are expected also to advise framing of definite proposals by the miners.
Meanwhile, quiet conditions continue in the coal fields. The

Insects Bring Disease to Thousands!

THESE tiny pests are more dangerous to our health and well being than an invading army. Insects steal on us unawares carrying disease and death to typhoid, tuberculosis, infantile paralysis;

the mosquito all kinds of deadly fevers;

WEDDING.
ST. JOHN'S CATHEDRAL CEREMONY.

There was a large gathering of friends and relatives of both bride and bridegroom at St. John's Cathedral on Saturday afternoon, on the occasion of the wedding of Miss Edith Muriel Fowler, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Fowler of the China Sugar Refinery, East Point, to Mr. Henry G. K. Wheeler, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Wheeler of Southampton, England. The Rev. H. Copley Moyle conducted the ceremony.

The bride was given away by her father, Mr. G. Fowler, and was attended by her mother, who wore old rose georgette. Mr. G. Flynn, of the Chinese Customs, Lappa, acted as best man, and Mr. M. J. Davidson, of the Chinese Customs, Kowloon, performed the duties of groomsmen.

The service was fully choral, with Mr. F. Mason at the organ. A reception was held later at the home of the bride's parents, No. 1 Great George Street, East point, the happy couple leaving for their honeymoon at Repulse Bay, preparatory to departure for Amoy and Poochow.

The going-away dress was of old rose crepe-de-chine trimmed with lawn, lawn shoes and stockings and hat to match. The bridegroom's present to the bride was a silver dressing set. The bride's present to bridegroom was gold studs and sleeve links and the bridegroom's to the bride's attendants, gold and ruby brooches.

The large number of presents from friends were much admired.

OBITUARY.
MR. THOMAS WILLIAM GRANT.

It is with deep regret that we have to record the death of Mr. Thomas William Grant, which took place at 5.40 p.m. on Friday at the age of 27 years from peritonitis.

The late Mr. Grant, who was a draughtsman of the Chief Engineers' Department of the Naval Yard, was removed to hospital on Wednesday suffering from internal trouble. On Friday his condition became worse and he passed away in the afternoon.

The deceased was married exactly one year on the day of his removal to hospital and much sympathy will be extended to his widow, who is at present in Hongkong, and his parents who are at Chatham.

The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon, with the Rev. J. H. Hewitt, chaplain of the Royal Navy, officiating. There was a large number of personal friends and fellow workmen present and among the floral tributes sent were the following:

From his afflicted wife; Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Burnett; Mr. and Mrs. Black, Joan, Ian, Alice; Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Budden; Mrs. M. Steel, Betty and Audrey; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Oswick; Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Flegg; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Brown; Mr. and Mrs. William Rundell; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Lowman; Mr. and Mrs. Spanton; Mr. and Mrs. V. Chittenden; Mr. L. E. PRODUCTION IN BASIC INDUSTRIES DECLINES.

Washington, Aug. 28. For July the Federal Reserve Board report shows that the production of basic industries declined slightly, although less than usually. There was increased activity in textiles. Flour, cement and petroleum decreased. Iron, steel, and automobiles (wholesale and retail) showed a seasonal decline. The former was the lowest recorded for two years.

The loadings of grain were the largest since October, 1924.—Reuter.

NEW GODOWN.
WING ON CO.'S ADDITIONAL PREMISES OPENED.

The formal opening of the new five-storey godown built by the Wing On Co., Ltd., at No. 188 Connaught Road, West, took place on Saturday, when a large number of well wishers assembled at the new premises for the opening ceremony. The godown was gaily decorated with flags and paintings and suggested something less prosaic than a godown.

Among those present were Messrs. Bird and W. A. Cornell (of Palmer and Turner); Messrs. Ma Ying Piu and Ma Wing Chang, managing directors of Sincere's, Ltd.; Mr. Wang Kam Fook of the Kowloon Godown; and Mr. Chay Chong, chief manager of the Sun Co., Ltd. The visitors were cordially welcomed by the manager and assistant manager of the Wing On Co., Ltd.

Following the opening speech made by the Rev. Yung Ting-sang, the hymn "Bringing In the Sheaves" was sung in Chinese. The plan of the new building, which covers an area of 18,500 square feet, was prepared by Messrs. Palmer and Turner, architects. The cost of erection was $300,000.

The control of the company is in the hands of the following:

Mr. J. G. Lock, Managing Director; Mr. Philip Gockching, Chief Manager; Mr. Doo Jackman, Sub-manager; Messrs. Gunn, Shun Gee Hing, O'Younging, Lee Yuen Chong, Gock Kon Fun, Gock Hinman, Lum Battnam, Lau Kung-sam, and L. S. Kwok, directors.

BRITAIN AND CHINA.

of a large Shanghai Provincial State, with its centre at Canton. That was a movement which was being made from Canton, and it might be that a solution of some of our troubles in China was to be found in that direction. He would be glad of information as to the policy which the Government intended to adopt in regard to the suggestion that the question of a further inquiry into the Shamen shootings in 1925 should be referred to the British Government—a suggestion, he understood, which was made by the Canton delegates and agreed to by the British delegation.

"FANTASTIC NOTION."

The Earl of Balfour, Lord President of the Council, said it was true that a world movement in favour of nationalism had affected all nations, and it had not affected China less than other nations. In addition to the age-long dislike of foreign practices and manners which had been a factor in Chinese social life, there was this growth of what might be called national self-consciousness. But when the noble lord asked whether that national self-consciousness was going to be met on the part of Western nations by a kind of military alliance for the purpose of coercing China, he could assure him that he was not aware that any nations had entertained so fantastic a notion. At any rate, so far as his Majesty's Government were concerned, they desired to interfere as little as possible in the internal affairs of China.

China must work out her own salvation. She was now going through a period of extreme difficulty, and the difficulties were necessarily reflected in the difficulties which other nations in commercial and diplomatic intercourse with her felt. There was nothing in China which deserved to be called a Central Government in the Western use of that term. Peking had no authority over large parts of the country. It had little authority over the remainder, and he had heard persons well qualified to speak on the subject say that it had frequently happened in recent years and months that the power and authority of the Central Government did not extend beyond the walls of the capital.

MILITARY POWER.

In the capital were nominally concentrated officials, whose title would indicate that they had authority recognised over the whole of the rest of the country, and it was with them that his Majesty's Government had, in the main, to deal. It was with them that our diplomatic relations took place, and inevitably there was difficulty and even embarrassment in the relations between China and external Powers. Who was it exercised authority? Everybody knew it to be the fact that military authorities, responsible only to themselves and their armies, with varying fortunes, dealt with the situation, each in his own district. It was from their point of view not only a very abnormal and singular state of things, but one which produced great suffering in China itself and great embarrassment in the relations between

THE COAL WAGES QUESTION.

Chancellor of the Exchequer's emphatic declaration that the Government had no intention of providing more money by way of a subsidy to face the economic facts of a melancholy situation. When the struggle was concluded, he said, the terms that the miners secured could not but be worse than those available to them four months ago. There was, however, still time for the miners to extricate themselves from the position into which bad leadership had brought them, and to re-create a flourishing industry to the benefit of all concerned in it.

British Wireless.

China and outside Powers.

It was not for us to put an end to this state of things. We are not going to raise armies to traverse the length and breadth of China and force 400,000,000 of the Chinese population into any Western mould. The Chinese must work out their own salvation. In doing so they appeared to him to be making many mistakes, and it was unfortunately true that their mistakes reacted on ourselves. All that his Majesty's Government desired most earnestly was to co-operate with China to help where we legitimately could, to recognise that we and the Chinese, so far as commerce and economic affairs were concerned, had common interests; and, as regarded the organisation of their own country, our hope was that there would be no difficulty in their managing their own internal affairs. As regarded maritime Customs and other treaty rights, which certainly required modification and reform, the oldest might live to see the difficulties removed. There was a great movement in that direction. With that movement, wherever it could be legitimately taken, we sympathised, but it was impossible in regard to all these commercial and judicial affairs simply to say that all the international structure built up in the last 80 years was to be summarily removed.

FEDERAL SYSTEM?

The good of China and the good will of China were both objects earnestly desired by his Majesty's Government. There was a strong movement in China which many good observers said was going to end in some kind of federal system between the provinces. He did not know whether that would be for the good or for the evil of China. China had had a long provincial feeling developed in her long history. He had no reason to believe that China was more likely to be broken up in consequence of her present unhappy condition than she had been at many other critical and difficult periods. They must all hope that these conditions would ameliorate, but he was bound to say that, so far as he could see, the conditions did not seem to be in process of improvement. It was not desirable that he should enter at the moment on the subjects of the Canton incidents, which were in a state of transition. The motion for papers was, by leave, withdrawn.

SINGAPORE AIR MAIL.

A UNIQUE EVENT.

A unique event in the history of Singapore was the departure yesterday (Saturday last) of the first air mail ever despatched by the local Post Office, says the Singapore Free Press.

The Air Survey Company's seaplane, piloted by Mr. Vincent left for the F. M. S. carrying the mail and the machine was timed to arrive in Port Swettenham in time to catch the 1 o'clock mail.

Captain Durward who is to be in charge of the survey work undertaken by the Air Survey Company for the F. M. S. Government along the coast of the Peninsula from Port Swettenham to Port Weld, was also in the machine.

At nine o'clock the seaplane taxied out of the lagoon dock and after gliding past the Yacht Club, took the air gracefully and shaped a course to the west.

The arrangement was that the mail should be taken up by the one o'clock mail train at Port Swettenham and distributed in Kuala Lumpur the same afternoon.

The measure was decided on as an experiment, and it may be added that the postal authorities here are considering the question of air mails with a view to introducing regular services from Penang to Singapore and from Singapore to Java.

On enquiries later we learnt that Captain Vincent arrived at Port Swettenham in good time and that the two bags of mail he carried were despatched by the 1 p.m. train for Kuala Lumpur. Telegraphic communication came through to the local authorities from Kuala Lumpur after five o'clock, to say that the mail had been distributed.

LOCAL SHIPPING.

INTERESTING ITEMS.

The "good-luck" ship of the Dollar Line, the President Cleveland, Captain W. Yardley, left yesterday for Shanghai and San Francisco with a full complement of passengers and nearly full of cargo.

The steamer Mau Sang, Captain George Merrick, which just arrived from Sandakan with a full cargo of heavy lumber, had fresh south-west monsoon with rain and mist nearly all the way up to this port.

The Mau Sang this time went between the Paracel Islands and the Macclesfield Bank, which is probably the safest route to take this time of the year.

The Peninsular and Oriental liner Nellore, Captain A. H. Hignett, arrived from Singapore yesterday and went alongside Kowloon Wharf No. 5. She also had misty and rainy weather. The Nellore used the opportunity to replenish her bunkers here, and bunkering was commenced immediately upon the vessel's arrival in port.

The star vessel of the Canadian Pacific Steamships Company, the Empress of Canada, arrived this morning at daylight after a wet trip from Manila. She had a large complement of passengers and went alongside No. 1 Kowloon Wharf.

The P. and O. steamer Jeypore also arrived to-day after a very windy passage from Negapatam and went alongside No. 6 Kowloon Wharf.

The Nippon Yusen Kaisha steamer Tamba Maru, Captain H. D. Hideshima, also arrived from Singapore, and went alongside Kowloon Wharf No. 6. She had very few passengers, but plenty of cargo.

The local weather forecast up to noon to-morrow is: South-east winds, moderate; generally fair; shower at first.

The P. and O. liner Kashgar, which left Singapore on the 28th instant, is due here at 6 p.m. on September 1st.

ROYAL VISIT TO AUSTRALIA.

DETAILS IN HANDS OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

For the visit of the Duke and Duchess of York to Australia next year, an independent Cabinet Committee of the Federal Government is appointing a special Welcome Committee, as was done when the Prince of Wales and the American fleets paid their visits. There is genuine enthusiasm at the prospect of the opening of Parliament by the Duke.

It is stated officially that there is no truth in the announcement that the infant Princess will accompany their Royal Highnesses.

Canberra is to supersede Melbourne as the seat of the Federal Government, and all departments of the administration will gradually be transferred thither. The selection of the Yass-Canberra site for the Federal capital was voted in the Senate and House of Representatives, and in 1910 the Commonwealth acquired from the State of New South Wales an area of approximately 912 square miles as the Federal capital territory.

The official ceremony to mark the initiation of operations in connection with the establishment of the seat of Government there was carried out in March 1913.

Recent Admiralty appointments include Lieut. L.V.G. Chapman to H.M.S. Ambrose, and Instructor-Lieut. J.C.N. Taylor, M. Eng., to H.M.S. Durban.

The Governor-General summoned a formal hearing on the military reservation, and invited both Colonel Thompson and Ex-Secretary Stimson to be present. The leaders of both Filipino and Moro factions, including Governor Asiniero, were hurriedly summoned and asked to give testimony.

Alice Robinson (40) charged at the Old Bailey with attempting to murder her mother-in-law, was found guilty but insane, and was ordered to be detained during his Majesty's pleasure.
